

IT WAS THE ONLY bite he had all day, but George W. Roth had no complaints to offer when he dashed ashore with this giant walleye, another in the long string of big fellows taken in recent weeks from Lake Okabena. Landed yesterday afternoon off Cherry Point after gulping Roth's big minnow, the monster tipped the beam on the Gregerson scales at nine pounds and five ounces.