

FINED FOR ALLOWING HIS ANIMALS TO RUN LOOSE

The fact that George West, residing at Forty-eighth street and Sixth avenue, allowed his domestic animals to run loose in the neighborhood, caused his arrest at the instigation of George Regenberg. According to the latter, horses, cows and chickens were permitted to run promiscuously about the neighborhood, and that they intruded upon his property. West was arraigned before Justice Wheelock yesterday afternoon, who fined him $4.00.

The Daily Times
(Davenport, Iowa)
3 February 1914 - page 15

ANIMALS RUN AT LARGE AND OWNER PAYS A FINE

George West, living on Forty-eighth street and Sixth avenue, paid $2 and costs in police court this morning for allowing his horse and cow to run at large. Complaint was filed by George [redacted] a neighbor, who said the animals had broken down his fence and damaged his lawn.

The Daily Times
(Davenport, Iowa)