

MICHAELSON, Melvin A

death:

Word was received of the death of Melvin A. Michaelson at a Des Moines hospital on July 10. Melvin had open heart surgery in March, but had been in failing health since. He was born in Kirkman, Nov. 17, 1913, the son of Sam and Cloie Davis Michaelson. He lived in Des Moines for the past several years and was a retired road equipment operator for Polk county.

He served in the Navy in WW II. He is survived by his wife, Iole, a daughter, Nancy Brown of Loveland, Colo.; two grandchildren and three sisters, Beulah Evans of Des Moines; Geneva Schlagel of Lindale, Texas and Ruth Thompson of San Dan Dimis, Calif.; and other relatives. He was preceded in death by his parents; one sister, Dorothy and two brothers Lars and Orville.

Services were held July 12 at the Richardson Funeral Home in Carlisle with Pastor Patrick Amsden officiating. Burial was in the Avon cemetery at Carlisle.

Harlan Iowa Tribune
Wed morn. July 28, 1982
Kirkman News, page 6A