Obituary

[The Indianola Iowa, Herald, Thursday, January 15, 1925]

Jennie M. Cale wife of Dallas DeWitt Cale, was born one mile south of Cumming, and died at her home in Cumming at the age of 55 years, 10 months and 7 days after a lingering illness of some months.

On October 31, 1894 she was united in marriage to Dallas DeWitt Cale. To this union there were born two children, Lucille, deceased and William DeWitt.

She continued to reside at her present home until 1910, when she removed to Boone, Iowa, where she remained until 1914, moving back to Cumming, where she has made her abode until death overtook her.

She is survived by her husband, D. D. Cale, sons, W. D. Cale and L. H. Cale, of Des Moines; brothers, J. R. Swan, of Los Angeles and G. R. Swan of Denver, and granddaughter, Dorothy M. Cale.

Mrs. Cale was regarded as one of the bulwarks of the Methodist church at Cumming, where she had been in the continuous service of God all her married life. She leaves behind her an example of one who has given herself unselfishly to the work of the kingdom and good cheer of others. Even unto the last, her utmost interest and concern was in evidence to those who in a small measure were trying to reciprocate what she had done for them.

She at last was blessed with that wonderful assurance which comes to only those who have tried their best to exemplify the teachings of the Savior. It is indeed with grateful hearts that her loved ones know she is safe and at rest in the arms of One whose infinite care of mercy is everlasting.

May it be more of an occasion to rejoice rather than to sorrow at the passing of one, near and dear to her many, many friends, content in knowing that she has attained the goal for which she has strived for these many years.
