A very tired, forgy-eyed soldier went into a USO center, where there are hooths along a wall for theatre tickets, coffee, food and one for beds. What our hero wanted was a bed. But he got in the ticket line by mistake. "One," said he. "Don't you want to take a girl?" said the motherly lady. He hesitated. "You can if you want to," she urged. "You'll have more fun if you do."

© DEAR JOE: This is the day the world is supposed to end. Rev. Long and his followers are waiting out in California. Swami Yogananda says they've miscalculated—that it's going to end but not yet—ain't mean enough yet. The boy on the elevator said, "Sure is a pretty day for the end of the world." And I echo him. It sure is. And it's a beautiful day for a wedding, a beautiful day for football and a beautiful day for the world to be at peace, a beautiful day for duck hunters and a beautiful day to get out of the army. After what Marshall said yesterday that seems not so remote. 70 points by October 1st and then 60 by November 1st and then all men out along in the winter who have been in two years. It sounds wonderful... Soon we'll be getting ready for Christmas. We were making plans the other day. The streets will be lighted and festooned. There'll be parties and dances. Yes, sir, Joe, this is a beautiful day. I don't think it's the world's end either. I just hope it's the beginning of a new and better world, for all of us.

AROUND THE TOWN: Last Sunday morning Sheriff Kapsch, of Pocahontas, found the bruised and battered body of Mrs. Lois Vining, Warden Coffee Shop cashier, in a ditch north of Pocahontas. Later in the day with Capt. W. L. Gormally of the city force, Kapsch arrested Merle Jacobson, a Fort Dodge ice man, for questioning. Jacobson said that they had been together and had quarreled on the highway near Pocahontas Saturday evening. She got out and he ran over her by accident. Then he picked her up, put her in the cab and drove down the highway. When he found she was dead, he became frightened and threw her out. Jacobson is still in jail as the investigation continues . . . Chuck Ruhl, Fort Dodge garage owner, died Wednesday . . The Study Club gals are already planning the annual Charity Ball . . Duck hunting opened Thursday morning at 9:19 a. m. Flash—servicemen and women do not need hunting licenses in Iowa. Not until Congress says the war is over . . . The P. W. Camp at Algona will fold soon . . . Hal Manders, formerly of Detroit, will hurl against the Dodgers for Adel this coming Sunday . . Bud Fisher of the B & F Sales Company, has sold out to his partner, Jacob A. Breckwald, and is going back to Wisconsin to run the family paper mill . . . 1,500 to 2,000 moppets are expected at KVFD's big free Tom Mix show at the Rialto and Iowa theatres tomorrow. Lucky youngsters admitted on Ralston box tops will see a wild and wooly Western, fumny cartoons and will carry home six English shepherd puppies, three Persian kittens, 30 gold fish, four rabbits, eleven guinea pigs and a pair of smoke-gray love birds. Top hand Ken Peterson is riding herd on the live stock now . . Ralph Woodard, last year Dodger star, will start at end for Iowa next Saturday. Art Johnson, back at the university after three years of flying for the Army, has not gone out for football as yet . . The Community Chest drive opens in Fort Dodge, October 8th. Maurice Charon is drive chairman . . . Sgt. Conrad Peterson, of Badger, has been liberated from a Jap pri

SCOREBOARD. The Dodgers first grid game should really be classed as no contest. It was a massacre, a rout, a humiliation. After using every player on the bench (33 in all), Forrest Marquis' boys ended the game with forty seven points to Albert Lea's zero. The first score was made by the Dodgers in the first three minutes of play. Constantine went over standing up on the fifth play of the game and then went back and kicked the extra point. And that was the way it went no matter which one of the three Dodger teams was in. Heinie Wasem and George Constantine made two touchdowns apiece. Potter, Buckner and Messerly made one each. George Constantine made his second touchdown on a sixty five yard return of a punt. It was a beautiful run. George is definitely triple threat being able to kick pass and run. Heinie Wasem is a fine break away runner and Ollie Buckner in the full back slot looked very good. John Fieseler, veteran end, played his usually rugged game but went out with a knee injury that will keep him out of the Boone game. Dick Wold does a nice job on tossing passes. He threw a beauty to Paul Eide. Here's the line up—Fieseler (c), LE; Horn, LT; Arnold, LG; Robinson, C; Hutchinson, RG; Erickson, RT; Eide, RE; Potter, QB; Constantine, LH; Wasem, RH; Buckner, FB.

**O FROM THE FIVE CORNERS OF THE WORLD. James W. Gormally, RM 2/c, Norfolk. "Last June I was transferred off the U. S. S. William P. Biddle and sent to Treasure Island for further assignment. They kept me there for about six weeks and in that length of time I saw five or six fellows from home. One night at a dance, Dale Hall, Jack Jones, and myself all got together for a brief visit. Bobby Peterson was another Fort Dodger that I saw. About August 6th I was sent over to Norfolk for shore duty. On my arrival here, they granted me an eleven day leave, which gave me seven days, nineteen hours and ten minutes at home. Old Man Weather really treated me fine and the dew only fell heavy once. Had a few good golf games and had a chance to run around the excellent ball diamond. They have me stationed now at NAS, NOB, L. P. I., Norfolk, Va. I suppose that Dad has already informed you of that and now the good old letters will start coming in once again. Every place I have ever been the fellows think that your letters are the best in the West. That roto section was better than words can say and to me it has served dual purposes. My young sister lives here in Norfolk and I always take the letters over to her when I have read them. Her husband is stationed here at this base also and it sure does make it nice having someone in this vicinity that you know. Otherwise this duty would be rough and almost as bad as the fellows say Texas is. Before

Cpl. Louis Fideler, Jr., Island of Guam. "Fort Dodge is well represented here in the Pacific. I have had the opportunity to meet many fellow members of the armed forces from Fort Dodge. The resented here in the Pacific. I have had the opportunity to meet many fellow members of the armed forces from Fort Dodge. The city products are also represented out here. I have seen products from Tobins, Fort Dodge Grocery Company, Fort Dodge Creamery Company and Fort Dodge Tent and Awning. All in all, I believe the good old city personified "Home Town"—U. S. A. I have traveled over the vast expanses of the South and Central Pacific all the way from Guadalcanal to Iwo Jima. I was a member of a rifle platoon, but at present I am in S-2 military intelligence. The Third Marine Division has fought on Bougainville in the Solomons, Guam, in the Marianas, and Iwo in the Volcanos. I have been very fortunate—I've escaped tropical diseases, and was only slightly wounded on Guam. Our future tasks may be military occupation of Japan. Being in S-2, I would be concerned with interrogation and interpretive language work. I am learning basic Japanese. Speaking it is relatively simple, but writing it is extremely complicated. The surrender came as a great surprise to all of us, but it meant no more invasions, and brought home a reality. The marines here on the island went to extremes in welcoming the first surrender news. It took disciplinary action to quiet them. Now everybony talks of points, rotation, discharges, Bill of Rights, civilian life, the family, the girl back home, and a well deserved rest."

Vernon E. Voss, A. M. M. 1/c, FPO, San Francisco. "I've really been around the world in the last four years. I've been East to the Suez Canal and West to China. For the last three months, I've been with Admiral Halsey's Third fleet in its strikes against Japan, or rather the island of Honshu. At the present I'm at Tokyo. We flew over Tokyo the other day. It was a sight to see. There is simply nothing left of the place."

T/5 H. B. Garton, APO No. 758, New York. "In the "Home Town Men Make Good" paragraph, I head the list with the statement, "Hamilton B. Garton is now T/5! Boy, I wish I were something else. You see I've been a T/5 since June 1, 1942. The T. O's of the outfits I've been in have played heck with whatever ambition I ever had. I realize that the statement was made through an error of some sort, but I couldn't help passing the laugh back to you. One of these days I'll be a Pfc (poor frightened civilian) and I want that status indicated in red ink. Everything is going smoothly. Had a good trip to Bavaria recently. Saw the theatre at Ober Ammergan, Brenner Pass, Hitler's home and Eagle's Nest, Mozart's birthplace and plenty of beautiful mountains. I much prefer the scenery around Fort Dodge though."

Sgt. Elmer Eugene Hansen, APO No. 151, New York. "I have been birthplace and plenty of beautiful mountains. I much prefer the scenery around Fort Dodge though."

Sgt. Elmer Eugene Hansen, APO No. 151, New York. "I have been overseas now for over 28 months and am sort of getting tired of being away from home. I came from the States straight to England and was stationed there for over two years, and all during the war. I married a very fine girl there last February and have been very happy with my bargain. On July 16th of this year I came over here to Germany to help with the Army of Occupation and here I am now. I am located right outside of Augsburg, Germany, about 40 miles from Munich. We are located right in the middle of Bavaria and I really believe it is the most beautiful part of Germany. The country around here is very picturesque and the customs of the people are very interesting to observe. They use oxen as beasts of burden and have peculiar farming methods—almost all of it being done by hand. Their clothes are very good for a people that have seen so much of war. They all look very well fed, even though the papers say they are only getting one-third of the rations we are getting."

There were lots of wonderful letters this week. We had a grand time reading through them. Nearly two years of letters now and what a history they tell. They are very precious to us . . . Tonight it's football again and this should be a battle. Boone you know, has been waiting for years to beat us. Tonight they'll have nine lettermen on that squad at Dodger Stadium and they want to win. Last week they beat a good Oskaloosa team, 20 to 6 . . . Correction—Junior Kiliper was the second web foot in that egg race at the Expo water follies. Excuse it, please, Junior . . . So long, Joe. Be good.
